Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program New Mexico

Request for Proposals for 2006

Come join the growing number of private landowners, Native American Tribes, and others who have restored fish and wildlife habitat on their land in New Mexico, with the help of the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program!

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service is requesting project proposals for funding by the Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program (Partners Program) in New Mexico for 2006. Restoration activities that may be funded include those for riparian, in-stream, wetland, and upland habitats. These projects may include control of invasive plants and replanting with native vegetation. Projects that provide outdoor educational opportunities with schools and communities are also eligible for funding.

The Partners Program is a voluntary partnership program that provides technical and financial assistance to non-Federal landowners to restore, improve, and conserve fish and wildlife habitat for Federal trust species (e.g., threatened, endangered, and candidate species, migratory birds, and other declining species).

If you have questions or would like to apply for funding from the Partners Program please visit our website at:
